[1] Case 1780. October 14, 1973, denouncing various violations of the following rights embodied in the American Declaration: right to life, to liberty, to personal security and the integrity; to property, to work and to a fair wage, and to a fair trial (Articles I, XIV and XVIII), which had allegedly occurred in Colombia between 1972 and 1973 in the Departments of Sucre, Antioquia, Risaralda, Córdoba, Cesar, Magdalena, Huila, Bolívar, Huila, y Arauca.

[2] In accordance with the decision adopted at the thirty-first session (October 1973), the Commission requested the Government of Colombia, in a note dated December 19, 1973, to provide the pertinent information and transmitted to it the pertinent parts of the complaint (Articles 42 and 44 of the Rules of Procedure). This request was repeated on June 3, 1974.

[3] As in case 1777, the Government of Colombia, in the note dated June 18 mentioned above, requested an extension for the provision of the information requested. The CIDH also granted that Government first an extension of 120 days and then, in virtue of the request of October 23, 1974, considered by the CIDH at its thirty-fourth session, an additional extension of 60 days for the provision of the information and postponed the examination of the case. This decision as in case 1777, was communicated to that Government in a note dated November 13, 1974 and to the complainants on the same date.
