Trial Chamber II of the International Criminal Court (“the Chamber” and “the Court” respectively), acting pursuant to regulation 37(2) of the Regulations of the Court, renders the following decision:

1. On 19 June 2009, the Defence for Germain Katanga submitted an urgent application (“the Application”)<sup>1</sup> for extension of the number of pages authorised by the Regulations of the Court for the filing of a document. The document in question is stated to relate to the arrest and detention of Germain Katanga and to contain a request to the Chamber for a stay of the proceedings.

2. Counsel for Germain Katanga maintains that this motion, which he intends to file very shortly, sets out complex legal arguments concerning the rights of detainees, prosecutorial responsibilities and abuse of process. Counsel adds that the motion also analyses in a factual and detailed manner the detention of Germain Katanga from February 2005 to October 2007.<sup>2</sup>

3. Regulation 37(2) of the Regulations of the Court provides that “[t]he Chamber may, at the request of a participant, extend the page limit in exceptional circumstances”, that limit generally being 20 pages. In this case, the Defence for Germain Katanga argues that a minimum of 45 pages is needed in order properly to address the issues raised in its intended motion, excluding annexes.<sup>3</sup> It maintains that the exceptional circumstances required by the aforementioned regulation are present, given the nature and complexity of the issues raised. It refers further to the number of pages authorised by the Regulations of the Court for submitting challenges to jurisdiction, to which, in the Defence’s opinion, its intended motion is akin.<sup>4</sup>

4. The Chamber considers that, in order to be properly addressed, the issues shortly to be raised in the motion by the Defence for Germain Katanga cannot be developed in the space of a mere 20 pages, as is generally required of participants under regulation 37(2) of the Regulations of the Court. Moreover, the Chamber recalls that, considering in particular the advanced stage of the proceedings, it is essential that the participants should be in a position to give a proper and informed response to the motion.

FOR THESE REASONS, THE CHAMBER

GRANTS the Application.

Done in both English and French, the French version being authoritative.
