The Appeals Chamber of the International Criminal Court,

In the appeal of Mr Jean-Pierre Bemba Gombo against the “Summary of the Decision on the ‘Demande de mise en liberté provisoire de M. Jean-Pierre Bemba Gombo afin d’accomplir ses devoirs civiques en République Démocratique du Congo’” of Trial Chamber III of 30 August 2011 (ICC-01/05-01/08-1672),

Unanimously,

Issues the following

ORDER

By 16h00 on 20 September 2011,

- a. Mr Bemba shall state the reasons for filing as confidential and shall provide reasons, if any, why the following documents, or any information contained therein, should not be reclassified as public:

 2. ICC-01/05-01/08-1702-Conf-Anx1,
 3. ICC-01/05-01/08-1717-Conf.
- b. The Prosecutor shall state the reasons for filing as confidential and shall provide reasons, if any, why the following documents, or any information contained therein, should not be reclassified as public:
 1. ICC-01/05-01/08-1715-Conf,
 2. ICC-01/05-01/08-1718-Conf.
- c. The legal representative of victims, Mr Assingambi Zarambaud, shall state the reasons for filing as confidential and shall provide reasons, if any, why the following documents, or any information contained therein, should not be reclassified as public:
 1. ICC-01/05-01/08-1704-Conf,
 2. ICC-01/05-01/08-1704-Conf-Anx1,
 3. ICC-01/05-01/08-1714-Conf.

REASONS

No: ICC-01/05-01/08 OA 8

3/6

1. On 30 August 2011, Trial Chamber III (hereinafter: “the Trial Chamber”) issued the “Summary of the Decision on the ‘Demande de mise en liberté provisoire de M. Jean-Pierre Bemba Gombo afin d’accomplir ses devoirs civiques en République Démocratique du Congo”¹ (hereinafter: “Summary of the Impugned Decision”) wherein the Trial Chamber rejected a request by Mr Jean-Pierre Bemba Gombo (hereinafter: “Mr Bemba”) for provisional release. The Trial Chamber found that “[w]hile [Mr Bemba’s] Request for Provisional Release was filed confidentially, the defence has not demonstrated a sufficient basis for confidential treatment”.² The Trial Chamber therefore issued the Summary of the Impugned Decision publicly and instructed Mr Bemba to file a public redacted version of his request for provisional release and “[t]he parties and participants [...] to do the same in relation to their observations [on the request for provisional release]”.³

2. On 2 September 2011, the Trial Chamber issued the “Decision on the ‘Demande de mise en liberté provisoire de M. Jean-Pierre Bemba Gombo afin d’accomplir ses devoirs civiques en République Démocratique du Congo”⁴ (hereinafter: “Impugned Decision”) wherein it set out the reasons behind the Summary of the Impugned Decision. The Trial Chamber filed the Impugned Decision confidentially as that decision and some of the filings related to Mr Bemba’s request for provisional release referred to the Appeals Chamber’s judgment of 19 August 2011⁵ (hereinafter: “Bemba OA 7 Judgment”) which was at that time confidential. The Trial Chamber noted that it would review the classification of the Impugned Decision “promptly upon the Appeals Chamber’s filing of a public redacted version of its [Bemba OA 7] [J]udgment”.⁶ The Trial Chamber filed a public redacted version of the Impugned Decision on 6 September 2011.⁷

3. On 1 September 2011, Mr Bemba filed publicly the “Acte d’Appel de la Défense contre la décision de la Chambre de Première Instance III du 30 Août 2011

intitulée ‘Summary of the Decision on the “Demande de mise en liberté provisoire de M. Jean-Pierre Bemba Gombo afin d’accomplir ses devoirs civiques en République Démocratique du Congo”’⁸ (hereinafter: “Notice of Appeal”). In the course of the appeal, Mr Bemba,⁹ the Prosecutor¹⁰ and the victims represented by Mr Assingambi Zarambaud¹¹ filed several confidential documents before the Appeals Chamber. Neither Mr Bemba, nor the Prosecutor nor Mr Zarambaud stated the factual and legal basis for filing these documents confidentially.

4. On 9 September 2011, the Appeals Chamber issued its judgment in the present appeal.¹² This judgment was issued confidentially as it referred to the confidential filings submitted in the present appeal and to the then-confidential Bemba OA 7 Judgment.

5. On 12 September 2011, the Appeals Chamber issued a public redacted version of the Bemba OA 7 Judgment.¹³

6. The Appeals Chamber observes that the confidential documents submitted in the present appeal by Mr Bemba, the Prosecutor and the participating victims do not comply with regulation 23 bis (1) of the Regulations of the Court which requires a party to state the factual and legal basis for filing any document as “ex parte”, “under seal” or “confidential”. The Appeals Chamber recalls that “[t]he purpose of [regulation 23 bis of the Regulations of the Court] is to clearly inform the relevant Chamber of the reason why the filing as non-public is necessary”¹⁴. As the Appeals Chamber has previously explained, compliance with this provision is essential not only to “allow the Appeals Chamber to assess whether or not there is indeed a need to retain the existing classification [of such documents]”¹⁵ but also “in order for the Appeals Chamber to determine what information, if any, in [the documents] should be kept confidential”.¹⁶

7. Regulation 29 (1) of the Regulations of the Court provides that “[i]n the event of non-compliance by a participant with the provisions of any regulation, or with an order of a Chamber made thereunder, the Chamber may issue any order that is deemed necessary in the interests of justice”. In order to determine to what extent the confidential filings listed above and the judgment in the present appeal may be made public, the Appeals Chamber considers it necessary to request Mr Bemba, the Prosecutor and the participating victims to inform the Appeals Chamber of the factual and legal basis for the filing of their documents on a confidential basis, as they were required to do by regulation 23 bis (1) of the Regulations of the Court.
