Date of the commencement of the confirmation of charges hearing

17. As indicated by the Single Judge during the status conference of 11 December 2012,<sup>17</sup> the Chamber is of the view that having decided that Mr Gbagbo is fit to take part in the proceedings before the Court, a date for the commencement of the confirmation of charges hearing must be set as soon as possible. The Single Judge recalled in this regard that the procedure had been considerably delayed and emphasised that the hearing had to take place as soon as possible as the parties had had enough time to prepare and no further delays could be justified.<sup>18</sup> She preliminarily indicated the Chamber's opinion that the confirmation of charges hearing could be held in February 2013.<sup>19</sup>

18. The Prosecutor endorsed the Chamber's preliminary view, and indicated that she would be ready to file the document containing the charges and the list of evidence on 21 January 2013, thereby making possible the commencement of the confirmation of charges hearing in February 2013.<sup>20</sup> The Defence raised a number of issues which, in its view, should be considered when setting the date for the confirmation of charges hearing. In particular, the Defence referred, inter alia, to the need to: (i) receive information from the Prosecutor on the process followed to obtain statements from certain witnesses; (ii) establish a proper way to contact certain prosecution witnesses; and (iii) conduct a number of investigative activities.

19. The Chamber recalls that, before the postponement of the hearing for the determination of fitness of Mr Gbagbo, the Prosecutor had already finalised her disclosure and presented her document containing the charges, and the

Defence had already submitted its list of evidence under rule 121(6) of the Rules.

20. Accordingly, had proceedings for the determination of Mr Gbagbo's fitness not been undertaken, the Defence would have been expected to be ready to proceed to the confirmation of charges hearing scheduled for 13 August 2012. Following the Chamber's finding that Mr Gbagbo is fit to participate in the proceedings before this Court, further proceedings leading to the confirmation of charges hearing in this case shall thus be limited to ensure disclosure between the parties of additional evidence not previously included in their respective lists of evidence and the related presentation of a new document containing the charges by the Prosecutor.

21. In this regard, the Chamber notes that the Defence requests more time before the hearing in order to conclude a number of investigative activities that it has initiated almost one year after Mr Gbagbo's initial appearance before the Court and several months after the Prosecutor's disclosure of the bulk of her evidence for the confirmation of charges hearing. In these circumstances, the Chamber is of the view that, without prejudice to the possibility for the Defence to rely on further evidence that may be obtained before the expiration of the time limit under rule 121(6) of the Rules, the conclusion of such tardy investigative activities cannot constitute a precondition to hold the confirmation of charges hearing.

22. In setting the date of the confirmation of charges hearing, the Chamber must take into account the delays that have already taken place since the first appearance of Mr Gbagbo and the limited scope and purpose of the confirmation of charges hearing in accordance with the Court's statutory regime.<sup>21</sup> As reiterated at the status conference,<sup>22</sup> the confirmation of charges hearing is not intended to be a “mini trial” or a trial before the trial. Furthermore, the Chamber needs to take into account its obligation to conduct proceedings expeditiously in accordance with Mr Gbagbo’s right under article 67(1)(c) of the Statute to be tried without undue delay. Finally, the Chamber must ensure that the date of the confirmation hearing allows for the respect of the time limits set out in rule 121(3) and (6) of the Rules.

23. In view of these considerations, and in light of the submissions advanced by the parties at the status conference, the Chamber considers it appropriate to set the date for the commencement of the confirmation of charges hearing at Tuesday, 19 February 2013. A detailed schedule for the hearing will be issued in due course.

Document containing the charges and lists of evidence

24. In light of the date of the confirmation of charges hearing and in accordance with rule 121(3) and (6) of the Rules, time limits must be set for the provision of the Prosecutor’s document containing the charges (the “DCC”) and list of evidence as well as for the submission by the Defence of its list of evidence.

25. With respect to the DCC to be submitted by the Prosecutor, the Chamber observes that a “charge” is composed of the facts underlying the alleged crime as well as of their legal characterization.<sup>23</sup>

26. In this regard, the Chamber recalls that, under article 67(1)(a) of the Statute, the suspect has the right “[t]o be informed promptly and in detail of the nature, cause and content of the charge[s]” against him. To give effect to this right in the context of the confirmation of charges proceedings, rule 121(3) of the Rules mandates the Prosecutor to provide the suspect with a “detailed description of the charges”, and regulation 52(b) of the Regulations further indicates that the document containing the charges shall include, inter alia, “[a] statement of the facts, including the time and place of the alleged crimes, which provides a sufficient legal and factual basis to bring the person or persons to trial”.

27. Furthermore, the Chamber observes that one of the core purposes of confirmation of charges is to fix and delimit the factual scope of trial. In this regard, article 74 of the Statute states that “the decision at trial shall not exceed the facts and circumstances described in the charges and any amendment to the charges”. Accordingly, in the event that any charges are confirmed, the factual parameters of the case at trial are determined by the charges as presented by the Prosecutor, to the extent confirmed by the Pre-Trial Chamber. Such delimiting effect can only be ascribed to those facts and circumstances which underlie the charges and must be described therein (“material facts”). Conversely, no constraining power is attributed to those factual allegations presented by the Prosecutor in the DCC, or at the confirmation of charges hearing, with a view to demonstrating or supporting the existence of material facts (“subsidiary facts”). Such subsidiary facts may be analysed by the Pre-Trial Chamber insofar as relevant to determine the existence of material facts, but are not themselves part of the charges and are not subject to confirmation by the Pre-Trial Chamber under article 61(7) of the Statute.<sup>24</sup>

<sup>24</sup> See Pre-Trial Chamber I “Corrigendum of the ‘Decision on the Confirmation of Charges’”, ICC-02/05-03/09-121-Red-Corr, paras 36 to 38; Pre-Trial Chamber II, “Decision on the Confirmation of Charges Pursuant to Article 61(7)(a) and (b) of the Rome Statute”, ICC-01/09-02/11-328-Red, paras 56 to 60.

28. In view of these considerations, and bearing in mind the recent developments in other cases at trial stage,<sup>25</sup> the Chamber is of the view that it is of paramount importance that, in the DCC, the material facts underlying the charges on which the Prosecutor seeks to bring the person to trial be clearly and comprehensively identified and distinguished from those facts of a mere subsidiary nature. In this regard, the Chamber is of the view that the Prosecutor shall identify, and present separately for each count, the charges brought against Mr Gbagbo clearly setting out all the material facts.

29. As recalled above, together with a clear identification of the material facts underlying the charge, a “charge” also includes the legal characterisation of such material facts. In this regard, the Chamber notes that regulation 52 of the Regulations specifies that the DCC shall include “[a] legal characterisation of the facts to accord both with the crimes under articles 6, 7 or 8 and the precise form of participation under articles 25 and 28”. With respect to the legal characterisation of the facts as subsumed within a form of individual criminal responsibility under article 25(3) or 28 of the Statute, the Prosecutor shall identify the form or forms of individual criminal responsibility which would accord to the set of material facts alleged.

30. The Chamber notes that, during the status conference, the Prosecutor requested an extension of page limit for the DCC in accordance with regulation 37(2) of the Regulations.<sup>26</sup> In particular, the Prosecutor requests that the page limit for the DCC be extended from 50 pages – which were previously authorised by the Single Judge<sup>27</sup> – to 65 pages, given the need to include specific submissions related to an additional form of criminal responsibility under which the Prosecutor intends to charge Mr Gbagbo.<sup>28</sup> The Chamber is of the view that the reasons provided by the Prosecutor justify the increase of the page limit for the DCC. The Prosecutor's request can therefore be granted.

Disclosure of evidence

31. The Single Judge recently held that "the parties shall be allowed to rely at the confirmation of charges hearing on additional evidence not previously included in their respective lists of evidence".<sup>29</sup> This includes all additional evidence regardless of the time when it was collected. This additional evidence, if any, must be disclosed between the parties, and communicated to the Chamber, in accordance with the system governing disclosure in the present case as set out in the Decision on Disclosure.<sup>30</sup> Also, the Chamber considers it necessary to establish appropriate time limits for disclosure between the parties in light of the date hereby established for the commencement of the confirmation of charges hearing.

32. Similarly, following submissions in this respect at the status conference of 11 December 2012 and considering the date of the confirmation of charges hearing, the Chamber deems it appropriate to establish time limits for the submission by the parties of any additional requests for redactions under rule 81 of the Rules, in order to ensure timely disclosure of all evidence that the parties wish to rely upon at the confirmation of charges hearing. In this regard, the Chamber notes that at the status conference of 11 December 2012, the Prosecutor indicated that her final request for redactions would be submitted to the Chamber by Friday, 21 December 2012.<sup>31</sup>

Live witnesses

33. At the status conference of 11 December 2012, the Prosecutor indicated her intention not to rely on any viva voce witness at the confirmation of charges hearing.<sup>32</sup> The Defence stated that it was not in a position to make any determination in this respect pending completion of its ongoing investigative activities.<sup>33</sup>

34. The Chamber recalls that, as held by the Single Judge, it “expects that oral testimony at the hearing, if any, will be narrowly relied on and only to the extent that it cannot be properly substituted by documentary evidence or a written statement”.<sup>34</sup>

35. The Chamber further recalls the VWU Protocol filed in the record of the case, according to which any party that intends to call viva voce witnesses shall timely submit to the Victims and Witnesses Unit (the “VWU”) a “Witness Information Form”, providing a number of relevant information.<sup>35</sup> Therefore, should the Defence decide to rely on viva voce witnesses, it shall promptly contact the VWU in order to identify and timely carry out those logistical arrangements that would be necessary to permit those live witnesses to appear before the Chamber in time for the confirmation of charges hearing.

36. The Chamber finds it necessary, with the view to a proper and timely organisation of the confirmation of charges hearing, that the Defence informs the Chamber, as soon as practicable and no later than 22 January 2013, on:

- (i) whether it intends to call viva voce witnesses at the hearing; and, if so,
- (ii) the estimated number of the prospective live witnesses.

37. The names of the viva voce witnesses, if any, together with an indication of the scope and subject-matter of the proposed questioning for each of them, must then be filed in the record of the case as part of the Defence list of evidence and within the same time limit in accordance with rule 121(6) of the Rules.

Victims' participation

38. The Chamber notes that the Registry has filed in the record of the case three victims' applications for participation, which were previously rejected or deferred and have been supplemented in the meantime. These applications will be considered by the Chamber. Accordingly, a time limit for the parties' observations under rule 89 of the Rules must be established.

39. In addition, should the Registry receive further victims' applications to participate at the confirmation of charges hearing, the Registry is instructed to transmit them to the Chamber and the parties in accordance with the "Second decision on issues related to the victims' application process",<sup>36</sup> by Friday, 18 January 2013. The parties must be allowed to submit their observations on those victims' applications, if any, by Friday, 25 January 2013.
