Trial Chamber VI ('Chamber') of the International Criminal Court, in the case of The Prosecutor v. Bosco Ntaganda, having regard to Articles 64 and 67-69 of the Rome Statute ('Statute') and Rule 67 of the Rules of Procedure and Evidence ('Rules'), issues the following 'Decision on Defence's request to hear Witness D-0054's testimony via video-link and advance notice concerning Witness D-0210'.

1. On 16 May 2017, the defence team for Mr Ntaganda ('Defence') filed a request seeking that the testimony of Witness D-0054 ('Witness') be heard via video-link and giving advance notice concerning Witness D-0210 ('Request').<sup>1</sup> In relation to Witness D-0054, the Defence submits that testimony via video-link is necessary and appropriate, noting that: (i) the scope of the witness's testimony is limited and expected to be concise;<sup>2</sup> (ii) the witness has not yet obtained a passport;<sup>3</sup> (iii) video-link testimony would enable the witness to testify during the first evidentiary block and avoid 'a substantial disruption to the witness's daily life by travelling for an extended period of time to The Hague';<sup>4</sup> and (iv) video-link would allow the Office of the Prosecutor ('Prosecution') to adequately cross-examine the witness and the Chamber to observe her demeanour and answers.<sup>5</sup> Regarding Witness D-0210, the Defence submits that should he not obtain his passport in time, it 'would not oppose' recourse to video-link, 'taking into consideration that the scope of his testimony is very limited and as such is expected to be brief'.<sup>6</sup>
2. On 22 May 2017, in line with the deadline set by the Chamber,<sup>7</sup> the Prosecution filed a response, indicating that '[d]espite the lack of an adequate basis' to grant the Request, it does not object to the testimony of Witnesses D-0054 and D-0210 being heard via video-link.<sup>8</sup>

3. As previously held,<sup>9</sup> the Chamber considers that the Statute and the Rules endow the Chamber with a broad discretion to permit evidence to be given viva voce by means of video or audio technology provided, inter alia, that such measures are not prejudicial to, or inconsistent with, the rights of the accused. The Chamber further recalls that it does not consider the use of video-link for testimony to require exceptional justification, and that it may consider a variety of factors, including a witness's personal circumstances or logistical difficulties in arranging a witness's travel to the seat of the Court.<sup>10</sup>
4. In the present circumstances, noting inter alia, the nature of Witness D-0054's expected testimony, the Chamber considers it appropriate to hear Witness D-0054's testimony by way of video-link. For the same reasons, the Chamber sees no obstacle, at this stage, to hear Witness D-0210's testimony by way of video-link, in the event the necessary travel documents are not obtained in time to allow the witness to travel to The Hague.
