Trial Chamber I ("Trial Chamber" or "Chamber") of the International Criminal Court ("Court" or "ICC"), in the case of The Prosecutor v. Thomas Lubanga Dyilo ("Lubanga case"), delivers the following Order on applications by victims to participate and for reparations:

1. On 2 November 2011, the Registry filed a "Request for instructions on victim's applications for participation and reparations received by the Registry".<sup>1</sup>
2. The Registry reports to the Chamber that it has received 27 new applications to participate in the proceedings and 25 new applications for reparations, which appear to be linked to the case.<sup>2</sup> Of the 27 new applications to participate, 25 also request reparations (4 completed separate forms and 21 used joint forms).<sup>3</sup> The Registry indicates that none of these applications have been transmitted to the Chamber.<sup>4</sup>
3. The Registry also sets out that of the 49 requests for reparations received from victims currently participating in the proceedings, 18 have been sent to the defence pursuant to Rule 94(2) of the Rules of Procedure and Evidence ("Rules").<sup>5</sup>
4. Given the stage of the proceedings, the Registry seeks instructions from the Chamber before it forwards the applications.<sup>6</sup> The Registry requests instructions as to whether: a) it should send the 27 new applications to participate to the Chamber with a report thereon, pursuant to Regulation 86(5) of the Regulations of the Court ("Regulations"); and b) the 31

requests for reparations from the identified participating victims and the 25 new requests for reparations should be provided to the defence in accordance with Rule 94(2) of the Rules.<sup>7</sup>

5. Given the evidence and the submissions in the trial have concluded and the Chamber is currently in deliberation, there is no opportunity for the victims who have applied to participate to express their views and concerns under Article 68(3) of the Rome Statute ("Statute"). In all the circumstances, these applications are not to be provided to the Chamber at this stage of the proceedings.
6. However, if there is a sentencing and substantive reparations phase in this case, these applications by victims to participate are to be provided to the Chamber for those purposes.
7. All of the requests for reparations (viz. from participating victims and any new requests) should be provided to the defence pursuant to Rule 94(2) of the Rules.
